An abrupt loss of engine power is a somewhat obvious sign of a fuel injector failure. If the fuel injector is clogged, the fuel supply will be irregular too. When the fuel level fluctuates drastically, the high and low rpm's will cause the engine to move in surges rather than slow and gradual movements.

This points to injectors since if the spray pattern is poor or the action of the injector is not crisp and clean (opening at the correct pressure with a good spray pattern), it might improve as it warms. Also, the spray pattern is a little less critical or noticable, as the engine warms, thereby compensating for this poor pattern.
